

Welcome to

Saginaw Conspiracy

by Mick McArt, Super Journo

"It's what the local papers are afraid to report!"

ROAD CREW WORKER CAUGHT WORKING ON JOB!

"This is an outrage," claims Road Union Boss Kenny Goslower in a recent interview. "We paid that man top tax dollar to follow our system, this kind of behavior will not be tolerated!"

"There goes our friday night back-ups and triple overtime" a coworker said waking up from his 3rd nap.

Don't worry readers, thanks to modern technology and union procedures we should have road repair down to a crawl in no time.

www.saginawconspiracy.com

T-shirts and Bumper Stickers Now Available!!!

© 2006 Saginaw Conspiracy is a copyright owned by Mick McArt
Saginaw Conspiracy is a parody news publication.

OSAMA BIN LADEN APPEARS AT LOCAL SCIENTOLOGY MEETING

Local Scientologists E-meters went off the charts when Illuminati and Al-Queda Kingpin Osama Bin Laden showed up at a recent meeting and gave a sales pitch hyping his new line of pork sandwiches.

Wearing only a "Filthy Animals-R-Delicious" T-shirt, and a pair of neon orange shorty-shorts, Osama barely blurted out "Capitalism Rules!" and "Long live Xenu" before getting booed offstage.

"This is an outrage", claims Stu Pidman, local scientology leader. "We didn't come here to listen to that nut. We came to here to have our emotional thetins read and figure out which aliens are living in our bodies. I did like his shorts though. I think L. Ron Hubbard wore a pair just like them when he was making up Dianetics while drinking himself braindead at Bambi's Bar.